

YOUTUBE SUBSCRIBERS – THE HIDDEN KEY

HOW TO BECOME SUCCESFULL ON THE YOUTUBE

Who is this guide for?

Everyone who has some free time and is willing to put some work into this. We had people and friends asking us about lot of this stuff, so we decided to put years of our knowledge together. That's how we delivered "The YouTube subscriber machine", guide which is full of knowledge, effort, experience and tricks your competition has no idea about.

Are you as excited as we are? We hope so. Let's get right into it!

CHAPTER I. THE BEGINNING

I read a lot of self-development books. Most of them have one thing in common – to plan and write things down. My mom used to tell me that I'm chaotic and messy person, I always forgot things and never could get things done on time. I started reading books some time ago and decided to implement some of these things in my life. Now things got way easier for me. I always got time for both friends and work. All of my project are finished a week or even more before the deadline.

Same things goes for YouTube, before you even start, you need to plan your things. So first things first. Take a notebook and pen or open word document and write things down. What are your goals? What is the purpose of doing this? How much time can you spend a week on your YouTube journey? Be honest with yourself. 1 month, 3 months, 6 months and a year. Then print the paper and
